Al'arinda Estates Road Work Starts—First Step in Million-Dollar Unit 1

Construction of some 3400 feet of paved roads in Altarinda Estates Unit 1 at Charles Hill Road and Mt. Diablo Boulevard started yesterday, President Ben Johnson of Altarinda Estates, Inc., announced.

Orinda Excavating and Paving Company of Lafayette is building the roads.

After the roads are laid out, work will start on the first 10 homes of the unit. Johnson said that the construction of these first 10 of the unit's eventual 33 homes is expected to get under way some time this month and to be completed this fall.

ABOUT 28 ACRES will be in Unit 1, according to Johnson, who is an Orinda resident. "The homes will range in price from $20.000 to around $35,000," he said.

'We are taking ad'vantage of the natural terrain."

He estimated Unit 1 to be a million-dollar project and predicted that the entire Altarinda Estates would be a "multi-million-dollar" development.

"This is not a tract, but a custom development," Johnson stressed.

"That means that, except for the first 10 homes, people can pick and buy their own lots and have their homes built according to their own plans, subject to our architectural control," Philip R. Becker of Hayward, vice-president of Altarinda Estates, Inc., explained.

BECKER AND JOHNSON pointed out that the first 10 homes will be "exhibition" homes and will be offered for sale. Most of them will be 3 and 4-bedroom residences and all will have adequate garage space, they stated.

The homes will be erected by representative builders of this area, and all local real estate firms of the Orinda-Lafayette area are being invited to participate in the sales program, the two Altarinda officers said.

Other officers are Denis E. Harran of Piedmont, chairmon of the board, and Elmo R. Smith of Oakland, secretary-treasurer and attorney.

THE ENTIRE 270 acres of Altarinda Estates, extending from Mt. Diablo Boulevard to the Haciendas Del Orinda subdivisions and from the Catholic Church and Pine Grove upper grade school sites to Charles Hill and Honey Hill Roads, will be developed unit by unit, Becker said.

Unit 2 will be north and east of Unit 1 and will be started after completion of the first unit.

The 270 acres were recently purchased from East Bay Municipal Utility District for $225,000.

TENTATIVE MAP for Unit 1 was approved a few weeks ago by the County Planning Commission, after agreement was reached regarding an access road from Mt. Diablo Boulevard. The map was prepared by F. W. Draeger of Wilson and Company of Oakland, civil and subdivision engineers. Surveys have been completed for Unit 1.

Temporarily, the access road from Mt. Diablo Boulevard will be from the Charles Hill Road intersection.

After completion of the freeway stretch which will connect Orinda Interchange and Lafayette By-Pass, a permanent access road will be built, to emerge at the grade separation which will cross the freeway to the vicinity of the Thomas St. Hill property.

AT THAT TIME the temporary access road from Charles Hill Road and Mt. Diablo Boulevard will be closed.

"We will dedicate to the county sufficient land for the permanent access road," Johnson stated.

From San Pablo Dam Road, EBMUD will construct a road across its property, south of the Christian Science Church, leading to Altarinda Estates, according to Johnson.

"A RECREATION CENTER for Altarinda Estates residents is an important part of our over-all plans," Johnson said.

"A swimming pool, tennis courts, a clubhouse and other facilities will be in this recreation center.

"This will not be in Unit 1 but it will be a definite project for the future, available to all residents of Altarinda Estates. Exact location has not yet been determined."

JOHNSON POINTED out that lot-sizes for all of Altarinda Estates will comply with the Residential-Agricultural zone requirement of half-acre minimum, with a minimum frontage of 100 feet and a minimum depth of 220 feet.

"The sewer main of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District comes right across the property," he said. "We're getting ready to construct laterals wherever necessary."

Johnson and Becker described Altarinda Estates as "the last centrally located closed-in piece in the Orinda area, 12 minutes from downtown Oakland and 35 minutes from Union Square, San Francisco."

School to Open Tuesday, Close Next Thursday

All grammar schools and high schools in this area and East Contra Costa Junior College will start classes of the fall term Tuesday.

After two days, there will be no classes Thursday—not because of student-weariness but because Thursday is Admission Day.

Classes will be resumed next Friday.

2 Students from Europe Arrive In Orinda Today

A few minutes after 10 this morning a 16-year-old high school girl from Vienna, Austria, and a 16-year-old high school boy from Malmi, a suburb of Helsinki, Finland, will step off a bus at the Greyhound station on Seventh Street at Mission Street, San Francisco, to begin a year of life in Orinda.

They are Charlotte Hradetzky, whose father is a judge in the Criminal Court in Vienna, and Povo Vakevo, whose father is a steam engineer on 'round-the-world ships.

By arrangement through the American Field Service student exchange system, Charlotte will live with the Stanley Hudd family at 22 Las Palomas and Povo will live with the Ralph C. Hall family at 72 Davis Road.

The two teenagers will be seniors at Acalanes High School this year.

ON HAND TO GREET them when they arrive will be their American "mothers," "fathers" and at least a few of their American "sisters" and "brothers."

With the Hudds will be their daughters, Joyce, an Acalanes senior, and Tania, who graduated from Acalanes in June and who will study at Pomona College this year.

With the Halls will be their son John, an Acalanes junior, and their daughter Joann, an Orinda School pupil. Another Hall son, Jim, and another Hall daughter, Judy, are University of California students.

Also on hand will be Mrs. T. D. Sanford of 19 Hacienda Circle, Acalanes district field representative for the American Field Service.

THE VISITORS will be taken to Mrs. Sanford's home in Orinda. After relaxing a bit there, they will be taken to the Orinda homes which will be their respective abodes for the next school year.

Charlotte and Povo are the first two European high school students to come to this area under the AFS student exchange plan. Cost of a scholarship making such a stay possible is $650.

The Orinda Rotary Club has contributed that amount, which has been divided to pay toward the traveling expenses of each of the two European youngsters.

Mrs. Sanford said yesterday that she is seeking to raise another $650, so that two full scholarships will be paid for. She has sent letters to some 150 people here, in this effort.

"THIS IS A WONDERFUL project," she said. "These European youngsters will become really acquainted with American life and will take back to their homelands a true impression of America.

"Next summer we hope to send two local students to Europe for two months, under the AFS plan. Traveling cost for each of these will be $450, and it is hoped that the necessary money can be raised in this area.

"By means of this exchange of high school students, big steps can be taken for world understanding and peace."

Slight Drizzles Bring Cool Days

A mild dampness pervaded the hills this week and was finally measured into .35 inches of rain by the weatherman.

However, foggy days alternated with warm ones leaving most Orindans thoroughly confused.

Here are the temperatures:

August 27	73	56
August 28	77	57
August 29	81	52

Overpass Traffic May be Shifted By Next Friday

The major traffic shift to the newly paved portions of the Orinda Overpass may take place as soon as next Friday, according to Gum Wong, assistant state engineer on the project.

Wong said that it may be longer, but that work is progressing to the point where the shift will occur soon.

TRAFFIC IS ALREADY proceeding over the off-bound ramp in the east-bound lanes to Moraga Highway.

When traffic is shifted motorists going both west and east will use the completed portion of the bridge while the present Mt. Diablo Boulevard is torn up and construction starts on what will become the southern half of the overpass.

A temporary delay was incurred when a bulldozer broke a 20-inch water main last Friday on the temporary detour on the Village side of the project.

HOWEVER, EAST BAY Municipal Utility District crews repaired the main immediately and the area has already been paved.

Damage was estimated at several hundred dollars.

Coffee Prices Dropping Here

The price of coffee in Central Contra Costa County is going down, though the exact amount of the reduction depends on what brand you buy and where you buy it.

The retail pricte cut follows a decline in some wholesale prices during the past two weeks and varies from nothing in some stores to more than 20 cents in others.

The retail price does not react immediately to changes in the wholesale price, as retailers must keep a substantial stock on hand and usually do not change prices until a new stock is purchased.

The price decline was described by one grocer as "slow but sure."

Falling Power Line Starts Fire

Three pieces of fire equipment and 10 men were required to extinguish a blaze near Moaraga last Friday night.

The blaze was caused by a falling 12,000 volt Pacific Gas and Electric power line which also killed two cows instantly when it fell across their backs.

The fire occurred at the G. M. Greenwood ranch on Las Trampas Road, but only grass was burned, according to the fire department.

The dead animals were valued at $600. One of them was a registered heifer.

The line break caused a power shortage in three ranches in Bollinger Canyon for a short time until it was repaired by the PG&E.

Admission Day, Labor Day Will Affect Business

Two holidays will occur next week providing rest for the harried working man.

Banks, stores and government offices will be closed Monday as Labor Day makes this a three-day weekend.

Thursday is Admission Day, the anniversary of California's admission to the Union.

Schools and government offices will be closed, but banks and the Post Office will be open. Stores and other private business will operate as usual.

Contra Costa Leads Bay Area in Tracts

Contra Costa County leads the nine Bay Area counties in total area subdivided in the past seven years, according to a report of the San Francisco Bay Area Council.

A total of 14.050 acres have been made into tracts here since 1947. This is 21.9 square miles of new dwelling units. The nine county total is 90 square miles.

Sewer Board Approves $60,000 for Detailed Working Engineering Studies

The first step in design of new facilities which will eventually serve the entire Central Contra Costa drainage area was taken August 26 by Central Contra Costa Sanitary District directors with the allocation of funds for specific detailed engineering studies of "both ends" of the present sewer system.

Directors devoted a special meeting —some three hours— to the study of the use of funds to be derived from the increased tax rate for 1954-55.

An allocation of up to $60,000 was approved for detailed engineering studies of pumping facilities in Orinda and Moraga and line facilities between these pumping stations and the sewage disposal plant in Pacheco.

COUNTY SANITATION DIRECTOR Thomas McMorrow appeared to urge the necessities of integrated sanitary service to serve the entire drainage area, pointing out that "the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District is the key to sewage removal for the entire central area of the county."

The firm of Brown and Caldwell, San Francisco consulting engineers, were chosen for the job from a list submitted by Engineer - Manager Gerry Horstkotte.

THE ENGINEERING firm will be asked to provide specifically working drawings of expanded facilities in the Orinda-Moraga area and in the Pacheco area, with the understanding that "they will investigate the central part of the system in order to design both ends."

The discussion began when President Irving Roemer pointed out that the district "has approximately $200,000 in resources and it needs $4 million." He stressed that some of the $200,000 (which will accrue from the increased tax rate of 60 cents per $100 assessed valuation) should be spent in obtaining the $4 million, and some for the correction of present difficulties.

McMorrow and County Waste Disposal Consultant Engineer William J. O'Connell appeared specifically to urge that the district spend some of the available funds in the Orinda area where overflowing sewage has drained into the San Pablo Reservoir of the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

DIRECTOR ERNEST SPIEGL urged the enactment of a sewer use charge, arguing that it would provide immediate funds for the correction of the Orinda situation.

Directors agreed to consider the matter with due notice to the public at a meeting held last night afterThe SUN had gone to press.

Spiegl asked the cost of getting a complete report on the situation in the sanitary district as outlined in the last report by Consulting Engineer R. E. Ramsier.

Horstkotte replied, "Of the $4 million raised by a bond issue, approximately $1 million would be used for outside consultation.

"IT WOULD BE FALLACIOUS to call outside engineers to tell us where to lay our lines. There isn't a firm in the United States that knows our district as well as we do. If you assume the fee standard set by the Society of Civil Engineers the terms for approximately $1 million worth of construction would be between $40,000 and $60,000.

Director Campbell MacPhail asked if the board was speaking of specific plans, 'or do we know exactly what we must have now?"

Roemer answered this by saying: "I read the Ramseier report and talked at great length with the firm. I have also talked to other experts who felt that to get detailed plans for everything is not too practical.

"IF WE ARE TO ENLARGE the district to a given capacity we must enlarge the treatment plant. Whether or not we do that, we must get the water over the hills and to the plant. But both of these things must be done whether or not we do the whole job."

He stressed that detailed engineering studies of the Orinda situation and of the plant would require "the engineers blessing of the middle. He said it was "unrealistic to call in an outside engineer who doesn't know the terrain."

Spiegl commented, "We've been burned twice on reports when we thought we were getting something we could use and we didn't. I want finished plans at both ends and in the middle.

"I'm satisfied your answer is the only correct one, but some people don't think so."

ROEMER COMMENTED, "We must decide the right way and do it that way. We can't keep doing things we don't want to just because people ask us to."

McMorrow asked the district to keep the Orinda situation in mind and reserve some of the $200,000 for repair work there. He also offered the services of O'Connell on "a consulting basis with no fee."

"We're not interested in contracts," he said, "and therefore have no interest in an unnecessarily expensive design." O'Connell agreed to work with Horstkotte on overall design problems.

'Understanding' Needed on Sewer Board -- Mitchell

Richard J. Mitchell, candidate for director of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District, presented his view of several issues which he feels important to the district and the voters this week.

Mitchell's name will appear on the ballot September 20 when two positions on the board will be filled.

"The history of administration of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District has demonstrated the need for understanding of several issues by members of the board of directors," he said.

"Some of them are:

"1. A CLEAR UNDERSTANDING of technical and engineering needs.

"2. Judgment of financial responsibility both to the district and people of the district.

"3. An understanding of public opinion towards certain actions required by the district to carry out its obligations.

"I have decided to run for this office because I believe I can aid the board in meeting these issues as well as judge fairly and intelligently the many detailed administrative problems which come before the board.

"AS A PROFESSIONAL chemical engineer with more than 10 years experience, I am fully capable of judging engineering problems. My several years in community affairs and awareness and understanding of county and district government functions will, I think, be invaluable in arriving at fair and logical decision on district improvements, expansions and financing."

Audubon Society

The Mt. Diablo Audubon Society held a meeting yesterday at the Walnut Creek Grammar School.

Mrs. Charles H. Smith of the Golden Gate Audubon Society, San Francisco, showed color slides of the inaccessible Goblin Canyon in the Southern Utah desert country.

Gasoline Prices Raised as 'War' Ends at Meeting

Gas prices returned to normal in Central Contra Costa County this week following a decision to end a month old gas war made by more than 75 service station operators August 26 at Stan's Brick House.

Citing adverse economic repercussions, the service station men voted to take down cut rate signs and go back to the same prices in effect before the war began.

STARTING IN WALNUT Creek, the price competition had spread to Pleasant Hill, Lafayette, Orinda, Oakland and Hayward.

Week by week prices dropped until the most common rate in Walnut Creek last week was 24.9 cents per gallon for regular gasoline and 29.6 for ethyl. Two stations were selling regular at 22.9.

The reasons for the start of the war are obscure, though one operator said other stations were offering lower rates in the form of rebates and that he met this competition with lower rates that he posted.

WITH PRICES BACK AT the "pre-war" level, the most common price for regular is 29.7 cents per gallon and 32.5 per gallon for ethyl.

President John Williamson of the California Gasoline Retailers Association flew here from Bakersfield to address the meeting.

"I don't think any of you enjoy selling gas at 24.9. The association wants to see that you make a fair profit. There is a state law which forbids selling your product at a price less than required to run your business," he said.

Secretary E. L. McKinney of the East Bay chapter said bookkeeping experts say a profit margin of six cents per gallon is required "for good business."

As another result of the "peace conference," President Placid Abono of the Contra Costa Chapter said a meeting will be called in the near future to build up membership for united action on service station operator's mutual problems.

Coast Counties Now Merged into PG&E System

Residents of the Lafayette and Orinda areas now will be able to conduct all of their gas and electric business at a single address as the result of the merger of Coast Counties Gas and Electric Company into the Pacific Gas and Electric Company system, it was announced yesterday by W. H. Park, East Bay Division manager for PG&E. The merger became effective Wednesday.

Local operations for both services are now conducted in Lafayette at 3593 Mt. Diablo Boulevard. George H. Connor, formerly of CCG&E, is in charge of consolidated operations as local manager of PG&E.

The telephone number will continue to be ATlantic 4-4417.

Connor formerly managed both the Lafayette and Walnut Creek offices. The latter will be in charge of C. A. Bowers, who has been the PG&E local manager there.

Cash, Jewelry Taken from Home

Mrs. Pearl Sauer, 52 Las Cascades Avenue, reported the theft of $20 and approximately $50 worth of jewelry from her home Monday.

She told the Sheriff's Office that a money sack which contained about $40 had been half emptied.

She reported to Deputy Sheriff William Sorenson that the thief had entered her home through an unlocked basement door sometime Sunday.

Meet Next Week To Plan Special Business Zone

In an effort to arrive at agreement on details of a Special Business Zone for some 25 acres on the west side of San Pablo Dam Road, the County Planning Commission's technical staff will meet next week with new owners of parcels, representatives of East Bay Municipal Utility District and representatives of the Orinda Association.

This was announced yesterday by Principal Planner H. Russell Griffith.

Griffith said that exact date of the conference had not yet been decided.

"County offices will be closed Monday, Labor Day, and Thursday, Admission Day," he explained. "So we don't know just what day the meeting will be held. But we plan to hold it sometime next week."

PURPOSE OF THE conference, Griffith said, is to "discuss having a well-planned shopping area" along the west side of San Pablo Dam Road, between the Village and the Crossroads.

Announcement of next week's meeting followed instruction from the Planning Commission August 25 for the techical staff to conduct sessions regarding a Special Business Zone.

Griffith said that EBMUD submitted a map Wednesday showing the status of parcels on the west side of San Pablo Dam Road.

This map showed that seven parcels have been sold, with only two small parcels remaining unsold. (See separate story.)

THE ORINDA ASSOCIATION'S Orinda Planning Committee met last night at the home of Mrs. G. F. Hickok, 88 El Toyonal, to discuss the problem of obtaining an integrated Special Business Zone.

County Director of Planning Thomas Heaton was invited to the gathering, but on Wednesday night informed Committee Chairman James Hupp he could not attend.

Associate County Planner Richard Stockwell said yesterday that he would like to attend the meeting at Mrs. Hickok's home but was unable to do so because he had to attend another meeting at the same time. He expressed hope that next week's conference will be a major step in the working out of plans for a Special Business Zone.

THE LETTER OF invitation to Heaton from the Orinda Planning Committee was sent by Mitchell Farrar. Delivered special delivery Wednesday and dated Tuesday, it stated:

"Acting upon the advice of the Contra Costa County Planning Commission of August 25, 1954, that the interested groups involved in creating a Special Business Zone on the west side of the San Pablo Dam Road between the Orinda Crossroads and the Orinda Village meet to work out a solution, the Orinda Planning Committee invites you personally to attend a meeting Thursday evening at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. G. F. Hickok, 88 El Toyonal Road, Orinda, Calif.

"We feel that in our own discussions relative to the above problem we must have your advice as well as that of our professional consultant, Mr. (Francis) Violich.

"THE INTERSTED parties involved in this matter are:

"(1) The people of Orinda as represented by the Orinda Planning Committee.

"(2) The property owners of those parcels of land recently sold by the EBMUD.

"(3) The County Planning Commission, its technical staff and the county professional consultant, Mr. (James) Campbell.

"(4) EBMUD, the latter by its own recognition at the Martinez meeting of August 25 presently a minority interested party.

"THE PEOPLE OF Orinda feel that all of these interested parties must be represented during any deliberations preparatory to the development of a site plan.

"Since the commission has called for the staff to prepare a site development study by September 8, your staff will no doubt schedule deliberations for the immediate future.

"It is the desire of the Orinda Planning Committee to cooperate in assisting the Planning Commission and its staff to reach a solution of Orinda's planning problems predicated on sound planning principles."

EBMUD Lists 7 Parcels Sold, 2 Still for Sale

Here are the parcels shown as sold by East Bay Municipal Utility District on the map of the west side of San Pablo Dam Road submitted Wednesday to the County Planning Commission by EBMUD.

The map lists the front-footage. Acreage and sales prices are not shown on the map but are as reported by EBMUD.

Starting from the Village and going toward the Crossroads, parcels have been sold to:

John and Virginia Snow, 291 front-feet (3.62 acres), $14,340.

Robert Bolman, Jack Buchter and Dr. W. M. Caygill, 704 front-feet (6.01 acres), $17,647.

General Petroleum Company, 280 front-feet (1.57 acres), $49,000. (This is the most recent parcel sold. It is approximately opposite Orinda School.)

Allen S. Klein, 100 front-feet (.669 of an acre), $22,500.

Charles E. and Marie K. Phillips, 100 front-feet (.68 of an acre), $22,500.

Standard Oil Company, 250 front-feet (.93 of an acre), $46,500.

Shell Oil Company, 174 front-feet (3.02 acres), $34,000.

Listed as still for sale are an 85-foot-frontage parcel between the General Petroleum and Klein sites and a 180-foot-frontage parcel between the Phillips and Standard Oil sites.

Associate County Planner Richard Stockwell estimated the 85-foot-frontage parcel to contain .47 of an acre and the 180-foot-frontage parcel to contain .99 of an acre.

Polio Continues To Claim Victims In Near Epidemic

Polio continued to claim victims at a near epidemic rate in the Walnut Creek - Lafayette - Orinda area during the past week and a half as five new cases were reported by the County Health Department as of Wednesday.

One Lafayette resident was stricken and the other four were from Walnut Creek. The figures do not include Pleasant Hill residents who are compiled with Concord by the department.

The year's total now stands at 54 cases, compared with nine at the same time last year. County officials have stated this comparison might be misleading as polio got "an early start" this year.

However, there have been 179 cases of the crippler reported in the county so far this year while only 113 cases occurred during all of 1953. At this time last year 50 cases had been reported.

Nonetheless, a higher percentage of this year's cases are of a milder type of the disease, health officials state.

Love Blossoms at Sanitary District

Love reared its head among the prosaic surroundings of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District board meeting last week.

Directors appeared to be untouched by the blossoming affection which appeared in their midst and continued their steady discussion of mundane sewer problems.

However, spectators had a difficult time at moments when their attentions were obviously divided between the fascinating spectacle of respectable gentlemen discussing public affairs and two dogs (who may have been respectable) discussing what could only have been very private affairs.

A large, elegantly coiffeured poodle, dressed in black and adorned with a shameless red collar, was ignoring the protestations of a handsome, though ardent beagle.

The courtship continued in varying degrees of intensity until President Irving Roemer, prompted by some undue stir amongst the spectators, said, "We must have quiet in order to hear what is going on. I don't mind the dogs at all . . . not in the least, but the talk is disconcerting."

Whether out of respect for President Roemer or the desire for more secluded surroundings — it would be difficult to tell which— the dogs adjourned their meeting to the more pleasant setting of a balmy Contra Costa night.

Among highlights were:

A humorous skit by four young boys — Ricky Keating, John Cooper, Peter Boyle and Don Navone.

A HILARIOUS monologue on "Hats" by Chris Romaine, with a side-splitting dissertation on the Dior influence on fall clothes tossed in for good measure.

Expert dance routines by George and Doris Clifford, long-time favorites here and teachers of ballroom dancing.

Jaspar Allara's one-man band performance.

Trumpet numbers, including "boogie-woogie," by youthful Mario Guarneri.

Dance presentation by Maudie Hammond and four assistants.

TAKEOFFS ON Jimmie Durante-Ethel Merman and John-Marcia by Jean Henderson and Fred Udall, in Pantomime.

"Dixieland Band" — Ted Schilling, Allara and his son and Ray Guarneri.

Singing by Lonnie Currier, harmony by the Elks Barber Shop Quartet, magic tricks by Jimmy Embree, pantomime and vocal harmony by the Four Menefee Brothers.

That wasn't all — but the list at least gives an idea of why the crowd laughed or applauded almost continuously during the two-hour show.

SCOUT SALUTE

Cub Picnic

With the start of school just around the corner, the Cub Scouts of Pack 212 are planning their first pack meeting for September 10 and the place and time are something special.

This is the pack meeting and picnic combined. The place is Camp Padres in Tilden Park, and the time is as soon as the boys and their parents can get there after 5 p.m.

The call is out for the more athletic fathers who fashion themselves possessing equal or superior skill to the "kids." Each den will plan and bring a pot luck supper for themselves. A right jolly time should be had by all to sart the new year of cubbing off right.

During the summer, fathers Charlie Blue, Jack Gilbert and Cubmaster Carl Dudley took some mighty interested boys to Hamilton Field.

Chuck Blue, Boy Scout of Troop 207 also went along with Greg Scarich, Stene Greathouse, Jack Gilbert, Peter Yedidia, Bobby Lee, Steve Eldridge, George Hower, Jimmy Crall, Roger Hoyer, John Thurston, Tommy Kirby, Hall Clement, Steve Dudley, Bobby Blue, Ricky Oltmen and Dennis Lucas.

It would be hard to tell whether fathers or sons enjoyed the trip and the excitement of a "Scrambled" alert the most.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lyon To Direct UN Week Here

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey B. Lyon, 4301 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Orinda, have been named co-chairmen for UN week, October 17 to 24, by the Mt. Diablo United Nations Council, announces Mrs. Paul Gaboury, president.

Mr. Lyon, born in Oakland, founder of the Lyon Van and Storage Company, now nation-wide, has served his community in an almost endless stream of civic activity. As Mrs. Lyon says, "Harvey and I have tried to make our contribution to each community in which we have lived."

That means attending Rotary meetings 32 years without absence; serving as district governor, past president of the Oakland Breakfast Club, past president of the county, state and national associations of the storage and moving industry.

HE HAS ASSISTED the Oakland Symphony, was president of the Joaquin Miller Foundation and an officer of Conservation of the Redwoods.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyon have been co-chairmen for two years of the American-Korean Relief and were responsible for bringing the Korean Children's Choir to the Bay Area recently.

Mrs. Lyon, born in Los Angeles, a member of the DAR, shares these activities with her husband in her own sphere, having 25 years service with the Travelers Aid Society, establishing a hospitality center in Oakland, by mayor's decree, that served 3,000,000 men during World War II.

They also have a family of three boys—Richards, now a doctor in Berkeley; Harvey Jr., a doctor in Fresno, and Bruce, who gave his life in service to his country as a pilot during World War II.

MR. LYON REVEALS how much their local civic activities have served to strengthen their awareness of broader community needs when he says, "Too few people know the facts regarding United Nations. The strength of our position in the UN depends on public opinion.

"That we may have an informed public, the week of October 17-24 has been selected for spotlighting the UN by publicizing its achievements and its goals," he said.

Through their world travels, especially in area remote from the United States, seeing native children, underfed, underclothed, was born in Mrs. Lyon's heart the desire to help in a more direct way.

No one was more qualified to become Northern California chairman for UNICEF (United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund) than Mrs. Lyon. She is in charge of the Mt. Diablo Council's first meeting of a series on specialized agencies, specifically the agency UNICEF, to be held at 8 p.m. September 9 at the Las Lomas High School multi-purpose room.

THERE SHE WILL exhibit part of her international collection of dolls, and another highlight of the meeting will be the recently released UNICEF film, "The Children."

Mrs. LuRene Mattson, an active member of the council, having returned from an extended tour of South America where she visited UN specialized agencies, will give a review of her findings there.

The public is invited to attend the September 9 meeting and to hear of the council's plans for UN Week, which include a dinner where Fleet Admiral and Mrs. Chester Nimitz will be honored guests and Admiral Nimitz the principal speaker.

THE NEW LOOK has been applied to the former Planters Dock, now the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center. Volunteers included Mesdames Barbara Graber of Orinda, Shirley Roth of Walnut Creek and Betty Moore and Ellen Kroff of Orinda.

"But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ . . . Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be among those read (258:21): "The human capacities are enlarged and perfected in proportion as humanity gains the true conception of man and God."

March of Dimes Gets Funds from Ceiling, Bars

The ceiling "came down" the other night at the Tunnel Inn as Jay Bedsworth pulled down $150 in $1 bills that had been stuck by sleight-of-hand to the ceiling apparently for years, to judge by the old brown paper appearance of the bills.

The money was donated to the local emergency March of Dimes.

Another collection on the ceiling was immediately started for the next campaign.

Danny Van Allen reported that his always successful March of Dollars and Dimes Around the bar, started only last week, was approaching the $100 mark.

At the Round-Up, Harry Costa's Silver Parade on the bar was showing lots of color, although not begun as soon as the others.

At the Shillalah, Charlie Mori reported that the "E"mergency containers for this year's March of Dimes were meeting with enthusiastic response.

Diablo Toastmasters Club To Name Officers for Year

Diablo Toastmaster Club 598 held its regular meeting at the Las Palmas Hotel in Walnut Creek August 26.

The 23 in attendance responded to a livley "table topic" session introduced by the chairman, Arnold Millholand of Concord, during the dinner portion of the program.

Roger Jernigan of 1899 Del Monte Court, Walnut Creek, won the "Table Topic Cup" for his one minute impromptu response during the 20 minute extemporaneous group discussion.

Jernigan also won the speakers cup and thereby became the "Toastmaster of the Week' for the best speech of the evening in close competition with three other assigned speakers for the meeting. He spoke on dog training—"The Better Half of Basic Training Is Obedience Training."

Other speakers were Frank Curtis of Orinda, Charles Daniels of Walnut Creek and Arnold Nelson of Walnut Creek.

King Parker, also of Walnut Creek, was the toastmaster of the evening and conducted the speakers program.

The nominating committee, with Al Ingalls of Lafayette as chairman, presented the slate of officers for election to club offices for the semi-annual period commencing in October.

Toastmasters is an educational club and non-profit organization dedicated to self improvement. The international club started 30 years ago on the West Coast and has spread to all parts of the United States and many foreign countries and territorial possessions.

Diablo Toastmasters Club 598 holds a meeting every Thursday night at 6:30 p.m. in the dining room of the Las Palmas Hotel. All meetings are of two hours duration and adjourn promptly at 8:30.

Happy Birthday to You

KATHRYN BEDAYNS

A strictly feminine party was held at the Oakwood Road home of the Raffi Bedayns. The guest of honor was Kathryn Bedayns, who was celebrating her first birthday. Guests were the mothers and daughters of the neighborhood, family members, her three brothers, Gregory, Roddy and Richard, Kathryn's grandmother, Mrs. Robert Stewart Norris of San Francisco, Miss Cynthia Eccles, a visting cousin from Madison, Wiscosin and one brave neighbor, Brad Green.

Mothers and daughters invited were, Mrs. Laurence Harper and her mother Mrs. McCuhn, Mrs. Harold Fawler and daughter Jean, Mrs. Robert Rothafel and daughters Roxanne and Robyn, Mrs. Rees Paine and Susan. Mrs. Chester Green and daughters Kristen and Karen, Mrs. Curtis Clark and daughter Sharon, Mrs. Charles Wood and Martha, Mrs. H. S. Kimball and Charlotte.

Kathy presided in her high chair at the pretty table, decorated in pink and blue, and set under the oak trees on the patio.

CHERYL WILSON

Cheryl Wilson and her guests enjoyed a Chinese Birthday party at her home on El Toyonal last week. Everyone wore Chinese Coolie Hats and a Chinese birthday cake was served after the barbecue dinner. Her guests included all her Brownie Troop.

Brownies invited were, Cassandra Coates, Barbara Bole, Barbara Brush, Pam Anderson, Teri Loveland, Nancy Jeppson, Lois Moxness, Carol Thurston, Terry Coleman, Melanie Mason and Vickie Cowdrey of Oakland.

TEDDY SCHILLING

Congratulations to Teddy Schilling, who reached his ninth birthday last weekend. This momentous event was celebrated in a rather noisy luncheon at his home on El Toyonal and a visit to the Orinda Theatre.

Boys who helped Teddy celebrate were, Paul Rieger, Greg Peterson, Steve Brush, Jay Jacobus, Tommy Kirby, Mike Gilmore, Bobby Blue, Danny Williams and Erick Ramsing.

MELANIE MASON

Sunday was the day Melanie Mason celebrated her ninth birthday with dessert and a show. Guests were Cassandra Coates, Barbara Bole, Lois Moxness, Barbara Brush, Nancy Jeppson, Andrea Miller from Los Angeles, Pam Anderson, and her two sisters Leslie and Barbara Mason.

TOD NEUENSCHWANDER

A real Western Cowboy dinner and show was what Tod Neunschwander ordered for his birthday party. The other cowboys who attended with Douglas Howard, Nicky Kleyn-Schoorel, Phillip and Greg Syslo, Ricky Renaldi, Steve Eldridge, Billy Lincoln and little sister Nora.

BONNY LIGHT

Bonny D. Light, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ronald G. Light, 22 Lavina Court, celebrated her third birthday August 24.

Her novel birthday cake was in the shape of a little girl with braids that looked like the storybook character "Heidi."

Bonny's 20 little guests enjoyed watching the original "Heidi" film with two cartoons, which was the special treat of the afternoon.

12-15 Club Has Party to Raise Funds for Youth

At the home of Mrs. George Hickok, 88 El Toyonal, the 12-15 Club gave a benefit luncheon and card party August 26.

Assisting Mrs. Hickok were Mesdames B. B. Seim, R. P. Hafner, C. Malone, James Sullivan and John Lax.

Members and guests, numbering in all 40 women, enjoyed a delicious salad luncheon and friendly games of bridge and canasta. Table prizes were attractively wrapped jars of jelly or jam.

This party, like the spring affair and another planned for this fall, is for funds to be used for gifts to the Contra Costa County Detention Home. One time they gave toilet articles including toothbrushes, another time records for a player in the recreation room, and this year their gift will be some current need, all to help in the health or morale of the juveniles there.

Spotlight On Springhill

Well, honestly, they told us there'd be days like this, but why do they always fall on Monday?

What we mean is that in between the time we began to pull this literary effort together and the present moment we have (1) answered the phone six times, (2) intervened in the pear branch duel between children, (3) retrieved the baby from his journey through the Harris' fence, (4) greeted four delightful and extremely talkative neighbors and (5) wiped up the contents of a bottle of shoe polish from the kitchen floor.

Other than this, there has been nothing to prevent a rapid dashing off of local events concerning local people.

BUSHEL OF PEARS?

First active citizens we'd like to mention are the women on the road who gave up several hours of time last week to carry out the emergency polio drive.

Under the chairmanship of Helen Searight, who organized Springhill into convenient working sections, Mae Jordan, Laura Lercari, Helen Jones and Libby Burger were those who visited homes along the road to collect a total of over $100. .....

What do you think of the idea of donating a bushel of pears to each of these good ladies for their efforts?

Just chatted with Carol Racine, who returned last week from her vacation-job at Oakland's Feather River Camp. Along with 15 other ladies and gentlemen of college age, Miss Racine helped keep 200 hungry campers well fed. Didn't cook, that is, but waited on tables.

Carol estimated she worked about two hours at each meal and spent the rest of the day swimming, riding and sleeping!

GOOD SALAD?

When asked what happened under the heading of amusing experiences, she replied thoughtfully, "Well, you could tell about the day I was thrown in the salad bowl!"

We were pleased to learn that this was after the campers had been fed and that they didn't use mayonnaise but French dressing. Makes all the difference in the world, you know!

Marguerite and Bill Racine along with Jean Busby joined Carol her last six days there and according to their offspring they spent their time alternately shuffleboarding and keeping the camp generally amused. This we can well believe!

PACK TRIP

These vacation conversations bring us to Polly and Nick Nichols and their little gang who returned last week from a pack trip in the Devil's Post Pile region. This area is located on the eastern slopes of the Sierras about 25 miles south of Tuolumne Meadows.

Doug, Katherine and Marilyn each back-packed their own sleeping bags and clothes, amounting to about 10 pounds per child. Needless to say, Polly and Nick carried much more since in addition to clothing and bedding, there was food to be considered.

"It was mostly dried food," said Polly, "with some canned meat."

Their first stop was Agnew Meadows from where they took several side hiking trips. Then onward about six miles to Ediza Lake followed by another five miles to Garnet Lake and then nine miles back to Agnew Meadows again.

Quite a jaunt for a family of five, we'd say!

Nick had gotten in training a few weeks earlier, however, by climbing to the top of Mt. Shasta, a height of 14,000 feet! Can't say the Nichols don't like exercise, can we?

REAL FINE DEAL

Two of our favorite redheads dropped by a while ago to tell us about a dreamy time they had with the Young Life group at their retreat in Canada. Bev Fibush and Gail Barnum traveled to Malibu, a resort on the Princess Louisa inlet, where they met with approximately 180 other high school students for a week of fabulous fun.

Recreational activities were endless according to the girls, with water skiing the most popular sport. This is spite of the fact that there were only two days of sunshine while they were there in that land of beauty and dampness.

The Peters' household was another scene of great activity August 26 when a group of Dick's fellow workers from the State Health Department and their families congregated for an outdoor buffet supper. This number came to about 90 people in all, which meanth that the 48 cup Springhill Road coffee maker was filled up three times in addition to two 18 cup pots! And according to Helen the 30 children present had a hey-day on bottled drinks.

Well, we hate to run so quickly today, but like we said, it's being an awfully Mondayish Monday. Come see us will you, huh? Any week from Tuesday on!

Win Certificates

Seven local Boy Scouts were among 36 of the East Bay area awarded cretificates Saturday for successful completion of a Gold Trail Adventure Coure at Camp Herms.

They were Fred Reschert, Bruce Brites, Roger Clark and Pat Murphy of Walnut Creek, and Lorin Peters, Phil Condit and Bob Brandes of Lafayette.

Danville Still Seeks to Join Sanitary District

Following the approval of the Boundary Commission, Danville groups are circulating petitions seeking annexation to the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District.

The area, consisting of approximately 300 acres, includes the Southern Public Utilities District, the Cameo Acres, Las Lomitas and Vista Grande subdivisions and a 30 acre parcel lying east of the utilities district boundaries.

A recently proposed $500,000 bond issue was defeated by the greater Danville area.

Mrs. Doris Dorris, secretary of SPUD, believes that enough signatures will be affixed to the petition to negate the necessity of an election and provide automatic annexation to Central Contra Costa Sanitary District.

This would require signatures representing 75 per cent of the assessed valuation of the area.

Forum Tea To Present Actress

The first fall meeting of the Lafayette Forum will be a tea Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in the Veterans Memorial Building, Lafayette. There will be a very short business meeting before the program and tea.

Mrs. Harold Mutnick, program chairman, has been most fortunate in bringing to the first tea a most talented actress of stage and radio, Miss Margaret Woodall, in a dramatic reading of a current New York play.

Bay Area readers will remember her as women's editor and feature writer of a daily newspaper, which position she held for five years. Her ability to assume the voices of every character makes an audience feel it has actually seen the whole play.

Tea chairman of the Forum, Mrs. R. M. Alpen, is pleased to announce her chairman will be Mrs. Ray Grant. Assistants will be Mesdames Paul Agajan, T. E. Andereggen, John Bermingham, R. F. Darmstead and W. M. Carver. Mrs Neill Cornwall and Mrs E. T. Bogardus will officiate at the tea table

On hand to greet old and new members and their friends will be board members Mrs. Walter Weideim and Past President Mrs. Ernest H. Haase.

Florida Vacation

Among guests from Lafayette at the Roney Plaza Hotel in Miami Beach, Florida, are Mr. and Mrs. N. Burrie, 2 Hidden Valley Road.

Orinda Here and There . . .

By ORINDA MOTHERS CLUB

REAL PROMOTER

If you have had trouble phoning Jimmy or Carolyn Read these days, it may be due to one of the many ideas of their enterprising eldest son Peter, aged 12. Seems that while at Scout Camp this summer, he wrote, begging for pictures of his mother, who is the Jean Simmons type.

She, thinking he was homesick, sent on a few snapshots. With no trouble at all, Peter passed her off as his 16 year old sister and proceeded to give out the snapshots to several college-age counselors along with name and number!

ORINDANS AT PLAY

The U.C. Alumni "Lair of the Bear" at Pinecrest was a popular vacation spot with many Orindans this summer. Seen actively engaged in some of the many tournaments there, were Ed and Carolyn Walsh, Barc and Joan Simpson, Bill and Barabara Picard and Stan and Babs Massie, who incidentally won a few darling miniature silver trophys in tennis, ping-pong and such.

So enthusiastic are the Massies about the Lair, that they spent all of three weeks there this year, with Babs busily participating in a campers' Water Ballet and assisting the baseball team so vigorously, we heard tell, that as she bent low to scoop up a fly . . . well, she'll never be able to wear those jeans again!

HI-YO SILVER

To 4 year old Clifford Chappell Jr., who literally sleeps with his two-gun holster each night, theirs was aperfect summer vacation this year. Two weeks at a ranch near St. Helene, with all the riding an amateur "cow-poke" could ask for.

His parents, Dr. and Mrs. Chappell of Donna Maria Way, and two sisters, Pam and Nancy, also enjoyed ranch life.

NEWCOMERS

The Orinda way of life draws another family from foggy, foggy dew over the hill. The Jack Happoldts, fromerly of El Cerrito, have just moved into their new home on Meadow Park Court. Both Jack and Dottie are employed at the University of California, where daughter Jackie will begin her freshman year this fall.

TRAVEL TIME

The Gerry Cookes of Don Gabriel Way are visiting friends an sightseeing for two weeks in Victoria, Canada and thereabouts before small son John has to respond to school bells and the third grade at Del Rey School.

Don Davis Better After Nose Surgery

Don Davis Jr., son of Mrs. Charles D. Davis, Brown Avenue, is recuperating at home from a nose operation which he underwent this week at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Walnut Creek.

Don is a sophomore at the University of California and a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. He received the nose injury while playing football.

About our happy Country Folks

By EDITH BOLMAN

LAMENT TO SPRING — it's gone. Lament to summer — likewise. Wanta know how we know? Point (1) the weather is balmy and swimmable; (2) the young are demanding new these, those and thats to wear the opening day of school: (3) formal invitations are coming through the mail instead of the casual phone call to come on over in your patio pants for a hamburger on rye; (4) Girl Scout leaders, appointed last spring are beginning to assume a now-it-has-caught-up-with-me expression, and (5) meetings are starting.

Any of you-all care for some baked fish?

On Wednesday last at the home of Mrs. Fred Borden ladies of the Orinda Branch of the Children's Hospital of the East Bay hashed and rehashed the delightful plans for the Fish Bake at the home of the Vad Jeltons September 18. Yesterday the Orinda Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Arthur Pederson for a box lunch and lecture on the proper love and care of begonias.

Mrs. Kendric Morrish started the fall social maneuvers off with a bang by serving the most delightful luncheon concoction all rolled up in an omelet — in honor of Mrs. Norman Ingram, better known in these parts as Shirley Smith, sister of Ritchie.

We, as usual are tagging along behind. Nostalgic for the recently departed mid-year we are trying to pretend it isn't so by recalling fascinating trips taken by Orinda people.

A comparative newcomer in the area, Mrs. Willem Scholberg, called "Bobs" by her friends because her name is Natalie, visited Curacao awhile back, and gave us the following impressions of that fascinating spot in the Netherlands Antilles. "A romantic small island in the Carribean famous for the refining of oil from Venezuela, and tourist shopping.

Being one of the last free ports (along with Hong Kong and Singapore) the traveler can buy French perfumes, Danish silver, Swiss watches, jewelry, Madiera linens, South American alligator bags, sandal wood, camphor chests, English bone China, Delft, Limoges — all duty free .

Sounds like a foreign branch of Orinda

This Dutch colony, discovered by Peter Stuyvesant 300 years ago and settled principally by Spanish and Portugese families, is fun to see as well as shop. Deep canals with houses on both sides, in full view of Tafelberg mountain — pontoon bridges — the Governor's mansion and an old fort — the Mahaai section where Shell Oil has lovely homes, school, and a country club for employees — Piscadera Baai, a resort hotel with excellent food and an invitation to swim in the Carribean — the older section of town where the spacious houses are built around a patio with laticed doors and tinkling fountains.

The Curacoans speak a combination Dutch, Spanish, English, French patois (from "Bobs" recitation of the goings on in the market place we gather this lingo is both expressive and gymnastic because evidently the same gestures are used to discuss the price of groceries as are customarily employed in a good fist fight) goats — all over the place — they eat up the gardens and redistribute the cactus which sticks in their hides and then drops off someplace else — obvious result — too much cactus.

Trade winds cool the evenings and even though there are drenching rains water is scarce so the usual tropical lush growth is replaced by the ubiquitous windmill. A true Dutch colony with great charm and, we believe, the location of the factory where they make the product of the same name which puts the finishing touch on a fine meal.

So, like we have mentioned previously — we have to forsake the yarns and get on with the news because we are on a diet of half yarns, half news and none of this "one horse one rabbit" in the stew business — it has to be a 50-50 operation — so,

Hither and yon with Orindans . . .

Mrs. Thomas Telfer has returned from Ohio where she attended a family conclave in celebration of her parents's 50th anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fee Jr. are home from Chicago and way points — they flew East and picked up a car.

The William Vaughans are home from Cape Cod — the Peter Ratcliffs are back from spending most of the summer at the family vacation spot — Sail Rock Ranch on the Northern California coast. They were visited by the Kerry Keresys with Brady and Sheldon who then went on to Independence Lake and then Tahoe.

Just to reverse the order, the William Kleins were in their new home in Orinda all summer and are now getting ready to go to Sugar Bowl where they spend the winter.

The Don Parle Whites are back from Detroit and New York and Mrs. Ted Becket has returned from Tahoe — as has also Joan Hedemark.

Cherie Sharp and similarly aged young ladies celebrated Miss Sharp's birthday at the Orinda Country Club on Tuesday last with a wonderful luncheon and swim.

The Douglas Knights are vacationing at Carmel, the George Ryersons have been camping at Mt. Lassen and were privileged to enjoy some real snow, the Robeson Smiths are back from Pine Crest. The Thomas Snows, Robert Millers, Standish Massies and Francis Tobias have been camping on various banks of the Tuolumne River and Dr. and Mrs. Ron Light have just bought a new tent. Why?

'Tenting tonight, tenting tonight . . .'

Well it seems they were camping on a very casual spot in a pup tent and they decided to get fancied up for an evening out. They were able to negotiate a baby sitter but evidently the problems of a six foot plus gentleman trying to tie a necktie in a tiny tent were very nearly unsurmountable so Dr. Light promptly bought a tent with both standing room and necktie room.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned de Laveaga also did some camping on the Tuolumne but no tent for them — they took off in what they refer to as the "armored truck" complete with rocking chairs, stove and bunk beds built in and

That is all. --

Lions Lay Plans For Barbecue

Directors of the Lafayette Lions Club will hold their regular monthly meeting at the home of President Ray Dittmeyer, 1106 Rahara Drive, Tuesday at 7:15 p.m.

In other action the Lions have formulated plans for a barbecue at a meeting held Tuesday at the home of Lou Repetto. The barbecue will be September 11 at the home of Cliff Brooks.

MR. AND MRS. RAY Dittmeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. Repetto are responsible for arriving at a menu that will include New York steaks, beans, salad and ice cream.

In a Monday trip to Concord to tangle with the Concord Kiwanis Club on the baseball diamond, the Lions did not fare so well, coming out on the short end of an 8-4 score.

HOWEVER, representatives commented that it was worth the trip to find that Al Cary can hit a homer after wiping windshields all day at his service station.

The Lions forfeited $10 to the Kiwanis fund for underprivileged children.

A NEW SERVICE FROM P.G. and E.

We're now supplying you natural gas—as well as electricity

As you know, P. G. and E. electricity has for many years been lighting your homes and doing the many other jobs electric power does so well. Recently, however, Coast Counties Gas and Electric Company merged with us. And we've taken over their job of supplying electricity's partner—natural gas.

Actually, it isn't likely you'll notice any change in your service. The people who worked for Coast Counties are now on P. G. and E. payrolls. They're retaining their seniority. They are covered by P. G. and E. employee benefit plans . . . and so on.

You will notice, of course, an advantage in the convenience of one bill, instead of two. And as the community grows, P. G. and E.'s far-flung natural gas resources will assure a reliable supply of the "wonder fuel".

There is no immediate change in local offices, pay stations or telephone numbers.

Sculptors, Architects Will Enliven Art, Garden Show

Noted sculptors and landscape architects of the Bay Area will combine their talents to exhibit in the unique Sixth Annual Art and Garden Show scheduled September 18 through 24 at the Werness Building, 3420 Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette.

Seven well-known landscape architects are designing garden alcoves for the show. Each exhibit will utilize the charm of water in California gardens and will feature the work of 14 contributing sculptors.

The five garden alcoves will illustrate pleasing relationships among sculpture, ceramics, pavings, walls, wind screens and the patterns of plant forms, Geraldine Knight Scott, Berkeley landscape architect and chairman of the garden exhibits explained today.

The nationally known sculptor Helen Bruton will bring three mosaic pieces to the show from her studio in Monterey. Other distinguished sculptors in the public show will be Zygmund Sasavitch, John Saccaro and Gertrude Murphy, all of San Francisco; Frances Moyer and Mrs. Elah Hale Hayes, both of Oakland's California College of Arts and Crafts and Kisa Beeck of Danville.

Berkeley sculptors in the show include Robert Thomas, Robert Dhaemers, Florence Swift and Bob Winston. Stevan Novac's large abstract wood will be on view, and Jonathan Batchelor of Canyon and Bohus Benes of Orinda will exhibit.

The design of the central pool, which will be under a light canopy, will be the work of two landscape architectural offices, Osmundson and Staley of San Francisco and Berkeley, and Ralph Jones of Oakland.

Garden exhibits will be by R. Burton Litton Jr., assistant professor of landscape architecture at the University of California in Berkeley, and C. Mason Whitney, whose office is also in Berkeley.

Ernest Wertheim of San Francisco will be associated with Orchard Nursery of Lafayette in the design of an alcove near the entrance of the art and garden show. Henry Von Siegman of Windy Hill Nursery in Walnut Creek will install one of the alcove exhibits.

A larger sloping area to the left of the main entrance will be designed in the Japanese manner. Plants and garden materials for exhibits will be supplied by Contra Costa County nurseries, including Sunset Nursery at Danville, McDonnell Nursery, Moraga Valley Nursery, Le Jardin Nursery in Walnut Creek and the Village Nursery in Lafayette.

Landscape contractors and building supply firms are cooperating in this effort to create garden settings for the sculpture and ceramics which also will represent many talented California artists, according to Blair Werness, designer of the art and garden show.

Besides art forms for outdoor living, the show will exhibit the work of prominent painters, weavers, fine printers, jewelers and textile artists. The show is sponsored by Outdoor Art Shows, Inc., non-profit civic organization interested in furthering art in the Diablo Valley.

Summer Wanes, But Garden Can Be Planned Now

These are the waning days of summer. Soon colors in your garden will deepen and mellow. Brown, yellow and gold will replace summer's lighter pastels.

Leaves may frequent your lawns and patio, and likely the grass will seem less green than just a few short months ago.

But while it is a time for speculation, it is no time to be idle. There are still fine days ahead in most parts of the state for outdoor parties and entertainment. And the California Association of Nurserymen suggests that it is also a fine time to improve your living area in all sorts of ways.

Perhaps a shelter built in one corner of your garden would provide an ideal dining area during the cooler days ahead.

A lathe house might well be the answer, since it could serve both as a useful living area and a place for hanging Fuchsias; potted Begonias and other plants.

And fall, of course, is the time for generally re-arranging in the garden. Fall bulbs should be planted now. Ornamental shrubbery might well be pruned for shape, and the entire garden given a cleanup spray.

Lawns planted now will become established before cold weather. Those evergreen and ground covers that you've admired should be planted.

You may even find that you'd like to do over the whole garden. If so, don't be afraid to seek the advice of your nurseryman.

Remember, he's an expert on outdoor living in general. He can advise you about fences, trellises and other non-growing garden aids — as well as outline those shrubs, trees and plants that can do the most to make your fall and winter garden pleasant.

Please write us news about your family, friends, clubs and interesting events. If you see something important, call at once.

Your Garden

Add Bright Colors to Your Patio by Planting Shrubs Dwarfs in Containers

The patio, traditional living area of so many California homes, provides a location where the gardener and his family may closely observe the living, growing processes of many types of plants.

For as the patio has grown in status as an adjunct of California living, nurserymen have been keeping pace by making available an ever increasing variety of plants in container form.

Patio gardening makes use of a number of attractive types of containers. But the California Association of Nurserymen says that the "redwood tub" tends to lead in popularity.

YOU CAN NOW secure trees, large and small shrubs, dwarf citrus and any number of flowering plants in redwood containers . . . something in every case to blend with the size and decor of your patio.

If you have lots of room, the evergreen shrub Aralia may be for you, since it grows rapidly to 8-15 foot height and 4-6 foot spread. As lush as a subtropical, it provides dark green leaves — sometimes 16 inches wide — and clusters of small white flowers in December, followed by small black fruits.

Aralia will grow in full shade and all but the hottest sun and is tolerant of most soils. Container grown, it can be trained and used in dramatic ways.

FOR HEADY and lasting fragrance on the patio, the Gardenia is magnificent. This evergreen with glossy green foliage and extremely fragrant waxy-white flowers does especially well in very warm climates — less well in cool coastal areas.

Gardenia varieties grow from 6 inches in dwarf form to 6 feet — and require a rather acid soil and a monthly feeding of commercial fertilizer from March to September. Where climate is a problem gardenias are especially fine in tubs.

The Aucuba is an especially soil-and-temperature-tolerant evergreen, usually growing from 6 to 10 feet in height and 4 to 5 feet in width. Its foliage is thickish and lush.

The Greenleaf variety of Aucuba is a solid green color; other Aucuba varieties have foliage with a green background combined with a variety of colors — yellow, white, silver and pale pinkish-buff.

In March small, dark maroon flowers will bloom, followed by clusters of bright red berries in October to February. (Requires pollenization for berries, however). The Aucuba shrub grows best in shade and solves many a gardener's quest for a plant that will grow in dark, difficult locations.

OUTSTANDING ON the patio, where its colorful foliage can be more easily enjoyed, is the Coleus — a perennial that in most parts of the state thrives in sun and well-drained soil. It grows to 3 feet with soft scalloped-edged leaves in all colors of the rainbow. A native of Africa and the East Indies the Coleus has spike-shaped flowers of blue or lilac.

By utilizing dwarf citrus, you may have on your patio beautiful foliage, fragrant blooms and fruit as tasty as that produced by full scale citrus trees.

Dwarf lemons are among the most widely available, with Meyer Dwarf Lemon being the most popular. Another nice feature about the dwarfs is that they will stay in scale without pruning.

The Bougainvillea planted in tubs will provide blooms of the most brilliant hues — purple-reds, magentas, scarlets. An evergreen, it is hardy in sun and responds to rich soil and heavier than normal fertilizing. It will heighten your patio with color, in July particularly.

These are only a few of the plants that will add beauty and charm to your patio. Your nurseryman can suggest a great many more and he will be glad to instruct you on the best methods of container gardening.

It costs you at least $2.50 extra when you go through the tunnel to shop. Save at home!

HOME and GARDEN

Ground Covers Ideal for Those Few Bare Spots

Though the term "ground covers" has a homely and rather negative sound, California gardeners have learned that the low green-growing shrubs and vines that come under this classification can be good friends indeed . . . since they are both attractive and undemanding.

The California Association of Nurserymen says that you can roughly classify ground covers into two groups — those used primarily as a substitute for lawns — and those used to beautify bare spots under trees, between flag stones, or steep hillsides, or a myriad of other "bare" locations.

DICHONDRA, LIPPIA, Creeping Thyme, Silver Thyme and Wooly Thyme are among those ground covers frequently used as lawn substitutes. They require about the same amount of soil preparation as a grass lawn, but their maintenance demands are far less. Mowing need be done only three times a year when the plants are in full growth . . . and then only if a smooth, rolling texture is desired.

Drive carefully through residential streets and save a child's life.

Asters Add to Garden Beauty

Asters are a wonderful addition to any home garden.

The early varieties, such as Royal or Powderpuff, will give quick color that continues on for a couple of months. Later varieties, such as the American Beauty, Crego or California Giants, are slower to flower but are much showier and also are excellent for cutting.

De Trentini will act as instructor.

Tiny's Hut Nabs Second Half by Beating Tri-City

Play in the Walnut Creek Softball League has been sketchy the past week, with the park dark as many nights as not.

League play as such has been finished, with Tiny's Hut copping the win in the second half and as a result now in the process of a best 2 out of 3 playoff with Rick's Drive-Inn, to determine the 1954 championship.

Last night the first game of the playoff took place, but too late for the results to hit this sports page.

ON TUESDAY and Wednesday the park lights were out, with no games on tap, while Monday found Tiny's cinching the second half with a 9-5 win over Tri-City.

Grodins, scheduled to play State Farm, forfeited in a preliminary.

In posting the win over Tri-City, Gene Bell hurled 7-hit ball, striking out four and walking two in the process.

Lon Mozzini of the losers yielded eight safeties, whiffed five and walked eight.

THE TALE was really told by nine wild pitches on the part of Mozzini, who had difficulty keeping the ball near the plate.

Tiny's jumped to a 4-0 first inning lead on two hits, a walk, three players hit by wild man Lou and two wild pitches.

The closest Tri-City got was 7-4 in the fifth.

Gene Bell paced the Hut at the plate with 2-3 in the form of a double and a single.

Last Friday no games were played as Grodins forfeited to State Farm when Grodins was unable to field a complete team.

DATES FOR THE second and, if necessary, the third game had not been set at press time.

A benefit game for Tiny's catcher Nick Centivich is scheduled to take place after the playoffs.

Nick, a tough-luck player, climaxed a series of four injuries with a broken ankle several weeks back and has been laid up since then.

Knight Football Players Work Out For Grid Season

The Las Lomas Knights, 103 strong, have been working out under the guidance of Head Coach George DeKlotz since Monday, with two practice sessions a day on tap in order to get the squad ready for its league opener with John Swett of Crockett September 17.

DeKlotz has been aided by Merrill Caltow, who will assist the varsity, and by Junior Varsity Coaches Ed Lahey and Eldon Bennett.

BIGGEST HANDICAP to date has been the lack of sufficient gear to outfit completely all of the candidates.

Shipments are on their way, but until they arrive a big problem is posed for the coaching staff as to how to get everyone ready for the opener.

THE KNIGHTS ENTER league play as a varsity team this year and hardly figure to repeat their 7 wins, 1 loss record of last season, when they were in the Junior Varsity loop.

The Knights do have 21 returning lettermen, who no doubt will do themselves justice, as far as first year league play is concerned.

THE SCHEDULE calls for three practice tilts — against John Swett at Las Lomas in an afternoon game on September 17, Liberty High of Brentwood at Brentwood in a night game September 24 and Albany under the Aclanes lights October 1.

Gridiron Activity Starts with Bang As 1000 Prep Lads Report for Practice

By ERWIN MATTSON

Contra Costa County pigskin addicts are in their glory these days. The grid game really got away with a bang on Monday.

The Alhambra Alumni gridders have been hard at it for several weeks but the preps were held back until Monday, when teams reported for practice.

ON THE BASIS of reports, close to 1000 reported for practice on the various campuses, and that in itself is big business.

In football shoes alone, it represents better than $10,000!

Figuring that it costs an average of $75 per player for a full set of gear, some $75,000 is involved, which is quite a sum, even in these days of inflated finance.

Thousands will view the games in the coming weeks, and, on the basis of early season talks, interest could well be at an all-time high.

●

INTEREST IS certainly high in the grid game as far as students are concerned, as it outdraws all other sports at the gate as well as in turnout for team positions.

The biggest problem for prep coaches is getting ready for the opener September 17.

Team personnel must get set early, in order to get ready for game time, all of which must be done with 15 days of practice.

Coaches have to be good guessers in the early stages in order to get the best eleven on the field by September 17, particularly if the nucleus of veterans is small.

Las Lomas, Pleasant Hill and Pittsburg have lineups pretty well set, with a host of lettermen returning.

In other cases, it is pretty much of a wide open scramble for top spots, and only time, scrimmages and game experience will tell the story.

●

A number of grid fans have been watching the Cleveland Browns work out over St. Mary's College way.

All have marveled at the passing of Quarterback Otto Graham, one of the best in the business who hits his target with uncanny accuracy.

Some of the workouts have been closed to the public, however, which means that Coach Paul Brown probably is working on some new maneuvers for the 49er game in Kezar Stadium Sunday afternoon.

Scheduled as an exhibition, it nevertheless should produce some top-flight competition, as the rivalry between the two clubs is particularly keen.

Dons in Heavy Grid Practice For '54 Season

Acalanes football aspirants have been at it hard and heavy since Monday, which marked the opening of the 1954 prep grid season.

The coaching staff, consisting of Coaches Erwin Mattson, Charles Eaton, Jean Ridley, Bob Stevens and Tom Stamper, has been putting an even 106 candidates through two-a-day practices in order to get ready for practice play.

THE DON VARSITY, depleted by graduation, has but four returning lettermen.

A host of candidates is up from last year's championship J.V. squad, and competition for varsity spots is keener than is has been for a number of years.

AT THE PRESENT time a squad of 51 varsity hopefuls has to be trimmed down to 35 for the practice opener against Piedmont at Acalanes on the night of September 17.

Other practice games will find the Dons travelling to Tracy on September 24 and to Alhambra High of Martinez on October 1.

76 Boys Turn Out for Ram Football

Head Coach Hal Briggs at Pleasant Hill High School has been a busy man these days, as he has been putting 76 football hopefuls through their paces twice a day, with emphasis on condition.

He has a new assistant on the Varsity squad this year in Wes Laubsker, 1952 Rose Bowl fullback for Stanford.

Lyle Palmer and Bill Iden head up the Junior Varsity, while Gordon Maddox serves as trainer for the clubs.

The 76 turnout is expected to reach the 90 mark once school gets under way.

MAIN PROBLEM, as at Las Lomas, is the lack of sufficient gear to suit up all the players.

It is hoped that orders will arrive before too many more days have passed by.

THE RAMS step up into the Varsity class this year, after making a successful debut last year, when they opened as a new school.

The opening practice tilt is with Alhambra at Martinez on September 17.

Encinal of Alameda forms the opposition under the lights of Mt. Diablo High on September 24, and the third practice game is with Liberty High at Brentwood on October 1.

Orinda's Future Up to All of Us

Incorporation is a subject which has increasingly interested Orindans during the past few years.

With the scheduling of a "town hall" meeting for October 11, at which residents will be asked to decide whether petitions calling for an incorporation vote should be circulated, the subject assumes immediate importance.

The recently submitted Coro Foundation report, prepared for the Orinda Association, provides the factual basis for discussion now under way and for decision on October 11.

Through all the pro and con sentiments, one basic fact seems obvious:

An intelligent, calm approach, based on available facts and not emotion, is the only sensible approach to the question of incorporation.

It is clear that we can't, ostrich-like, hide our heads in the statement that "we live in the country and came out here to get away from the city."

It is equally clear that we can't arrive at any sound conclusion by blithely asserting that incorporation will be an easy cure-all for our problems.

Essentially, the issue is: How can we best preserve and develop Orinda as we want the community to be? How can we maintain Orinda as a high-class, pleasant, semi-rural community, in face of the rapidly expanding population and the consequent increase of many of the problems which we have been prone to consider "city problems"?

The best way to attain these objectives would seem to be through local government control.

True, incorporation will mean additional taxes. But the old saying that "you can't get something for nothing" is especially applicable to such a situation.

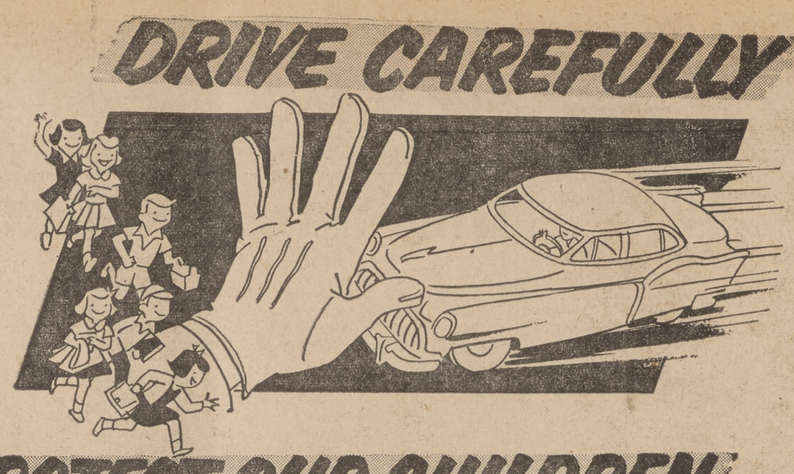
It is quite apparent that the county will not be willing to continue furnishing many services to Orinda, or to answer our demands for increased services, without invoking the County Service Area Law. That, too, would mean more taxes.

The question boils down to: Which is the most effective method of assuring satisfactory development of Orinda?

The Orinda Association and its incorporation study committee are to be commended for having obtained the Coro report and for deciding to place the entire matter before the people of Orinda.

It is up to the people to decide on the course to be followed.

And it is up to every thinking Orindan to study the facts, to attend the October 11 meeting and make up his mind about incorporation.



Monument Bowl Permit Issued

The Monument Bowl, proposed for Pleasant Hill on Contra Costa Highway, progressed recently with the issuance of a building permit by the County Building Department.

Valued at $100,000 the bowling alley with additional facilities will be built by John Militellp of Hayward.

It costs you at least $2.50 extra when you go through the tunnel to shop. Save at home!

CHANGE BRAKE TECHNIQUE

If the motor tour should take you over gravel roads, remember that braking requires a different technique from that used when the car is driven on a hard surface highway.

Generally speaking, points out the National Automobile Club, a lighter pressure on the pedal is needed to avoid locking the wheels and thus causing the car to slide on the loose surface. The pebbles under the tires are likely to act as small wheels upon which the car will roll much farther than it would on concrete or asphalt.

Church Women at Area Workshop

The following members of the Women's Mission Society of the Valley Baptist Church recently attended the Oakland Area Women's Mission Workshop at the First Baptist Church of Alameda.

Mesdames Helmer Johnson, Belva Gleiss, George Johanson, Robert Kimball, John Ramsay, Charles Crowell, Ralph Sommarstrom, Weldon Wakeland, Charles Reed, Ben Field, Otis Chambers and Jack Krause.

What They Say . . .

Do You Use an Alarm in the Morning?

Most people have a prejudice against getting up in the morning, especially when a mechanical aid such as the villainous alarm clock must be employed.

Of course, there are those who do not need such aid and awaken to setting up exercises and vim and vigor . . . and there are those who require two alarm clocks.

But here is the situation and these are the results when The SUN called to ask "Do you use an alarm clock to wake you up in the morning, or do you awake at a regular time without such aid?"

Here is what they say:

"I USE AN ALARM clock, said Mrs. Betty Deichler, 49 Monte Vista Road, Orinda. "My husband usually wakes up and turns the alarm off. He doesn't need it, but if I'm alone, I need one."

"I get up without one," said James R. DeKorne Jr., 54 Tara Road, Orinda. . "During the summer time I sleep late sometimes, and sometimes I get up early. In the winter when I'm going to school I have to have an alarm."

MRS. DENHAM EMERSON, 678 Jennie Court, Lafayette, said, "We have two alarm clocks, one set for a little later than the other. We like to turn off the alarm and go back to sleep."

And Mrs. W. F. Downey, 945 Carol Lane, Lafayette, said, "Well, we have a radio alarm, but I wake up before it goes off. I get up before the children, too. I have a couple of lazy bums and they'll sleep all day if they could."

"I can usually get up by looking at my watch the night before and thinking about the time I want to get up," replied the Rev. Longsden M. Sanford of 267 Gregory Lane, Pleasant Hill. "I've often wondered how it works, really, but I can look at my watch and decide to get up at 6 and I wake up then," he added.

"WE USE AN ALARM clock," replied Paul Dane of 255 Betty Lane, Pleasant Hill. "We have kids, but I get up before they do."

"We do use an alarm clock, yes. Why?," said Mrs. Cecil O. Davis of 158 Hall Lane, Walnut Creek.

"I have an eight year old child, does that answer your question?," was the reply of Mrs. John Hutchison, of 220 Livorna Heights, Walnut Creek.

Schooldays Mean Extra Vigilance

With thousands of children trekking back to school again this month, the California Highway Patrol issued a warning to motorists to be more vigilant and watchful, particularly in areas where school buses are in operation.

"The law requires motorists to come to a complete stop when they aproach a school bus which is standing and has its red lights flashing," the patrol announcement said.

"The only exceptions are when the bus is on the opposite side of a divided highway or when it is stopped at a traffic signal. If the red lights are not flashing it is not necessary to stop."

The patrol also pointed out that motorists should be watching for children walking or riding bicycles.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

Mayor E. C. Counter and the UN Week committee deserve our appreciation and support in setting aside a week to observe the ninth anniversary of the United Nations in October.

True, the organization needs strengthening and perhaps changes as it works for a peaceful world, but it is only as good as member organizations which are willing to support it and make it function properly.

Our mayor and the committee are showing us the positive way by this observance in our town.

Name withheld on request.

Dear Editor:

With refernce to our Sanitary District:

I may have missed your write-up in your paper, but your readers want to know the facts!

(a) What is wrong with the present system?

(b) Was it poorly engineered?

(c) Was the construction faulty and poorly inspected?

(d) Is not the estimate (for the bond issue) too high?

(e) How much did the present system cost?

We hope you can obtain some expert advice!

Name withheld on request.

Blood Sought by Nephrosis Group

"Blood is desperately needed to combat the deadly disease Nephrosis in this area," states Werner Renfer, chairman of the Western Nephrosis Society.

Renfer requests that prospective donors call the Alameda-Contra Costa Blood Bank, OL 4-2924, and arrange for an appointment as soon as possible. The blood bank is located at 6230 Claremont in Oakland. Doners should specify that their contributions go to the Western Nephrosis Society.

Nephrosis is an often fatal kidney disease that is contracted by children and adults alike.

Under The Sun

By Herman Silverman

Lets look at the mail bag . . .

Today lets dig into the mailbag and attend to some unfinished business.

In the Letter-to-the-Editor column next door, you'll find some questions raised about the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District. (If you haven't read it, please do so now.)

Okay, now to go on.

These are tough questions — and can be answered "yes and no." We've printed many stories about what is wrong with the system and the District. But the question today is how can these problems be solved?

I suggest that the District — the board and its staff — immediately start work on a Master Plan to cover all phases of operation now and for the next 25 to 50 years.

I realize the immediate, pressing problems are great and most effort must be expended solving them. But they are a part of the Master Plan.

The District has a large, full-time staff of 31. It's top men are well paid — the engineer-manager gets $1000 per month; the attorney, $750; and the office manager $650. Perhaps a planning consultant should be brought in to guide the planning program, which could be done by the district's present staff.

It's something to consider.

Notes on East Bay Mud election

Here's a note from a reader wanting to know when directors of the East Bay Municipal Utility District come up for election. I asked Bud Tanner, East Bay Mud public relations chief, and he sent a detailed letter along with the Municipal Utility District Act of 1953. Here is some pertinent information:

The terms of President Louis J. Breuner and Director Thomas S. Neilson expire next January; terms of the three other directors continue until January, 1957. Breuner represents the Oakland area, while Neilson, who lives in Berkeley, represents Ward No. 2. His territory "roughly consists of the easterly portion of Berkeley and continuing east to include Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Saranap and Moraga."

It's confusing because Director William D. McNevin lives in Happy Valley, Lafayette. He represents Ward No. 1 — Richmond, westerly sections of Berkeley and Albany, El Cerrito and San Pablo, thence Easterly through Kensington, along San Pablo Dam Highway, the nortly portion of Orinda and into and including Happy Valley area in Lafayette.

Here's how it works

"To nominate a candidate, his nomination papers must be circulated within the District. Each candidate's nomination papers must be signed by not less than 500, nor more than 650 voters. Candidates are voted upon at large and every voter in the District may vote for all Directors to be elected."

I believe that notice of election must be published in newspapers. Although I might have missed it when on vacation, I have not seen any news stories or legal notices announcing the forthcoming election held in November during the general election.

NOT — to the highest bidder

This letter came from some one unhappy with the operation of the District. I've had several phone calls from residents who are indignant at its land policies and question the good faith of the District. (The County Planning Commissioners also raised this question last week.)

Others are amazed at the District's policy of selling its valuable land. Land is not sold to the highest bidder. The district sets a certain price on the land and then sells it at that figure. We may hear more about this in the future.

Please fasten your safety belt

Several weeks ago this column asked if anyone knows who sells passenger safety belts for automobiles.

The question was answered in short order. I received a phone call from the Guardian Safety Equipment Company of San Francisco, whose manager said, "We have the finest in the world."

Then, Mrs. John Canham phoned to say that her nephew sells safety belts at the Ray Brown Automotive, Santa Monica Boulevard, Los Angeles.

Next, came a letter from the Industrial Indemnity Company's San Francisco office. M. R. Colwell, assistant division manager, wrote in part, "Industrial Indemnity is very active in safety work. We have equipped our cars with safety belts and encouraged the public and our insureds to do the same.

"The following two safety equipment manufacturers can furnish belts in a variety of colors. The price range is between $8 and $9 each. E. D. Bullard Co. and the B. F. McDonald Co., both with offices in San Francisco and Los Angeles."

Why a safety belt?

The literature was very interesting, particularly:

"There is only one basic reason why a vehicle occupant is injured in a collision, namely because a difference in velocity develops between the vehicle and the occupant at the moment of collision. This difference in velocity causes the occupant to collide with the interior of the vehicle. The greater this difference in velocity, the greater the injury. The use of safety belt tends to prevent this difference in velocity from developing."

I learned that it requires roughly one-half second to unfasten a belt using one hand. Should a fire result from a crash, a vehicle occupant protected by a safety belt has a better chance of remaining conscious and thus being able to escape quickly from the vehicle.

If you would like to see this information, please drop me a line.

A school by any other name

Last week we printed a letter criticizing the name, "Miramonte" for the new high school to be built in Orinda. The writer said the community expected it to be named "Orinda High School."

I agree with the letter and suggest that interested residents discuss this with the Acalanes school board. Several years ago residents of Pleasant Hill objected to the name selected for the new high school in their area. They took the question to the Mt. Diablo school board and it was changed to Pleasant Hill High School.

Lots of people are confused by "John Swett High" at Crockett or Alhambra High at Martinez. If possible, I think most of us would vote to change the names of Las Lomas to Walnut Creek High and Acalanes to Lafayette High. What do you think?
